QUICK HITS

“BOM Manager is a powerful ERP enhancement”

“Large, complex [multi-level] BOM’s are integrated quickly and consistently”

“The CADLink process was a constant source of contention”

“a more efficient way to eliminate inaccuracies”

Our company relies on custom engineered solutions designed to accommodate a variety of new and existing facilities. Due to the unique nature of each project, our engineered products will have distinct Bill of Materials and configurations.

We have found BOM Manager to be a lean, effective program which allows us to efficiently import and manage our custom engineered parts in Made2Manage. BOM Manager is flexible enough to fit our existing business process and simple enough to allow for a short learning curve.

Our organization was previously utilizing CADLink for CAD-ERP integration. The CADLink process was a constant source of contention which required time-consuming investigation and interdepartmental meetings to resolve data inconsistencies and/or unintended processing results. Application performance was sluggish and error-prone when complex BOM’s were involved. We were commonly experiencing issues with the program itself and how the program fit within our business process. Support for our CADLink issues was minimal and often did not provide adequate resolution.

Adopting BOM Manger has greatly benefitted our organization. Reviewing BOM’s and Routings has become a much easier and more streamlined task – errors and warnings clearly indicate and explain issues as they occur.

“BOM Manager truly complements Made2Manage”

“a lean, effective program”

“The customer support has exceeded our expectations”

The increased BOM transparency has formed a more efficient way to eliminate inaccuracies which previously may not have been identified prior to import.

Large, complex [multi-level] BOM's are integrated quickly and consistently. We now have a high level of confidence our BOM's are uploading as intended. The added benefit of Item Master, Std BOM and Std Routing maintenance and review has also proved very useful. All support inquiries have been addressed quickly and completely. The customer support has exceeded our expectations.

BOM Manager truly complements Made2Manage to provide painless and transparent CAD integration while ensuring data integrity. BOM Manager is a powerful ERP enhancement that we will continue to use and incorporate throughout our organization.”
